The Impact of Substance Use Disorder and Recovery on Parenting and Children (3hr)

In this workshop, you'll learn how Substance Use Disorder impacts parenting behavior, children and family functioning – both in times of active substance use and in recovery. Participants will learn strategies for providing safety to children in homes with parental substance use, as well as support for parents and caregivers of children while in treatment and early recovery.

August 7th 9am-12pm Jefferson County Commissioners Office- 155 Main Street, First Floor, Brookville, PA

Tools for Helping Parents in Recovery (3hr)

Parents in early recovery often face considerable obstacles as they regain connection with their children. The need to balance the demands of parenting with the work of recovery can be very challenging – but with support and encouragement, families heal, and children thrive. In this session, we will discuss strategies for collaborating with parents in recovery and how caring professionals and communities can support recovering families.
